

This 1937 picture of the May Pole and entertainers at Holland School shows the town of Holland in the background. Students in costume were ready to perform dances and songs to entertain the Queen of the May. Sadly, the two Holland schools and some other buildings in Holland were lost due to arson some years ago.

Welcome Sweet Springtime

This issue was begun as we were seeing signs that the long cold wet winter was over. Like the Druids and our more recent ancestors before us, we in the SNHS office longed to celebrate the new life that comes in this gentle season. Rather than erect a May Pole in the Dawson House backyard, we sought to share pictures from May Day celebrations in the past.

Welcome Sweet Springtime

After a long cold wet winter this writer is pleased to have cause to remember the words of a song sung for May Day many years ago:

*Welcome Sweet Springtime,
We greet thee with song,
Murmurs of gladness fall on the ear,
Voices long hush'd now their full notes prolong,
Echoing far and near.*

Refrain:

*Sing then ye birds, raise your voices on high;
Flowerets awake ye, burst into bloom.
Springtime is come and sweet Summer is nigh.
Sing, then, ye birds, O sing!*

In this 1939 photo elementary school girls appear as butterflies to celebrate May Day at Holland School.

May Day

The pictures in this issue illustrate that May Day was celebrated at schools throughout Suffolk and old Nansemond County—high schools as well as elementary schools in some cases.

We are reminded that most mothers were at home and could sew elaborate costumes.

This writer once appeared in a mostly crepe paper dress sewn on Mother's machine. It was intended to create the appearance of an upside down daffodil.

Mrs. Harrell's c. 1948

In the 1940s and '50s local public schools were not yet offering kindergarten but several private home kindergartens were open. Mrs. Joshua Harrell had a kindergarten at her home on Bishop Place in the 1940s. The May Day celebration included the following students, left to right: Jackie Grant, Penny Barrett, Jack Brantley, Barry Chamberlain, Betty Fletcher, Tom Woodward, Betty Sue Habel (Greene), Gene Famous Birdsong, Becky Debnam, Dickie Harrell, (queen) Connie Reid (Happel), Karen Volper, Kit Vaden (Roller), Melinda Davidson, Harriet Clay (Naismith), Bobby House, Jimmie Smith, Jimmie Woodward, Brenda Bailey (seated), George Gatling, Doug Smith and David Corcoran. (Sorry we're not sure of more married names for girls.)

Some other kindergartens were operated by Mrs. H.W. Churn on Broad Street, Mrs. Walter Story on Maryland Avenue, Mrs. Ernest Stephenson on Virginia Avenue, Mrs. George Gatling on Causey Avenue, and, later, Mrs. George Morrison on Pinner Street. Thanks to Jane Gatling and Tom Woodward.

Old King's Fork School 1954

Excuse this rerun from our 2008 Kings Fork edition, but it is so apropos and we have new members who might not have seen this. Boy in cowboy hat (#6 from L.), Jimmy Gardner, prince & princess to R. of queen, Gene Ellis and Eleanor Powell; queen, Josie Ann Underwood, and king, Hugh Whitley; princess to L. of King & back beside the bush—Mary Ainslie Saunders, with prince, Howard Council; little girl wearing hearts, Dirran Savage. In R. foreground, Willie Williams (blond) and Lindsey Mincher. The farmhouse in far right background is that of Mr. and Mrs. Rob Wright (of Rob's Drive). The outbuildings are gone and the farmland has been developed but the house still stands. This site is less than a mile west and across Rt. 460 from NSA where May Day is still celebrated. See picture below.

Oakland School 1970s

Kindergarten kittens wait to perform in 1977 (above). Dancers gather around the May Pole (right) in 1974. Oakland is on Rt. 10 just outside Chuckatuck. This was a school for the black community before integration. By the 1970s, it was an integrated school. In fairly recent years it was given a new lease on life with major renovations. Courtesy Lynn K. Rose

The May Pole is wrapped with brightly colored ribbons.

Nansemond-Suffolk Academy 2010

Traditionally NSA celebrates May Day with dances around the May Pole and other dances by all third graders. Welcome sweet springtime. Courtesy Diane Nelms of NSA

Postscripts to our March 2010 Franklin Street issue

- This program from the Class Night exercises of Jefferson High School Class of 1915 was held at the Virginia Theater. Mae Brinkley (interested in poetry even then) and Tazewell Pettit were from Franklin Street. This is, of course, the season for graduations.

- Correction: It was Charles Henry Causey, Jr., nephew of James Colvin Causey of Franklin Street, who led the Suffolk Grays in the Spanish American War. C.H. Causey, Jr.'s home on West Washington Street was open on our 2008 Candlelight Tour. It is now the First Lady, an events facility at the corner of West Washington and Wellons Streets. See our November 2008 Boomtown issue.

- John Perts caricature

John Perts sent his caricature of Eleanor Roosevelt in a Christmas card c. 1960 to a staunchly Republican friend.

Kay Goldberg (above) leads the way on a recent yard work day at the Dawson House.

Kudos to:

- SNHS member Byron Carmean, a/k/a the Tree Man, who has recently been honored with a Thomas Jefferson Conservation Award. He was nominated for the award by Dr. Jeff Kirwan at Virginia Tech. The award was presented at the Natural History Museum in Martinsville, VA. Byron has identified a number of record big trees and contributed to the book Remarkable Trees of Virginia. He is also quoted in the new book, The Mill: The Franklin Mill from Camp to International Paper, by Phyllis Speidell and John Sheally.
- SNHS member Doug Naismith, this year's Rotary First Citizen. Doug made an excellent Dr. Challis Dawson on the first day of the 2009 Candlelight Tour and his wife, Mary Jane, gave a fine portrayal of the talented Madame Dawson.
- And thanks to SNHS member Kay Barnes Goldberg (upper right) who is retiring as a history teacher at Nansemond Suffolk Academy and, therefore, as sponsor of the NSA student history group. The students are helpful to SNHS in many ways at: Candlelight Tour, our member meetings, cemetery tours and Dawson House yard work.

FOR SALE

The Baker House - 123 St. James Avenue

In May Dr. Aubrey Morgan made a generous gift of a house on St. James Avenue to Preservation of Historic Suffolk, property company for SNHS.

St. James Avenue is one of the streets opened during the early years of the last century when Suffolk's population grew so rapidly. See our Boomtown issue November 2008.

In 1914 Ernest Linwood Baker (1878-1945), who was, by then, married to the former Luna Hutchings (1885-1973), bought the property at 123 St. James Avenue from J.Z. Yates of Wellons Street. The Baker family owned the house until 1968 when Ernest Baker's widow sold it to Midcity Land Company. Perhaps it was at that point that the house became two apartments.

Mr. Baker had lived on St. James prior to marrying and buying the house. Census records indicate that he was living with his mother, Octavia Baker, in the Holy Neck district in 1900 but by 1910 he was living at 112 St. James (the numbering might have changed) with his cousin by marriage, Harvey Ashburn, and Harvey's extended family. Ashburn and his brother were clothing salesmen and Baker was a shoe salesman at Ballard & Smith.

In 1925 Baker started his own retail shoe business. Suffolk Charter Book #2 shows that E.L. Baker Shoe Co., Inc. was chartered April 1, 1925, with Ernest Baker as president and L.H. Baker (E.L.'s brother?) and Baker's cousins, Harvey and Mamie Ashburn, as directors. The company weathered most of the Depression but was dissolved in August of 1937. We assume that Mr. Baker then became a shoe salesman at another store.

The house has been vacant for some time and needs extensive work. However, it retains many charming original features. It is in a National Register district so is eligible for tax credits.

PHS will offer the house for sale for rehab at a very reasonable price but with restrictions. Members of the Society who are seriously interested in the building should call the Dawson House, 757-539-2781, for particulars no later than July 16, 2010. The house will be open to potential buyers (SNHS members only) on July 17, 8:00 - 11:00 am and July 18, 2:00 - 4:00 pm. It may be shown to members at other times by appointment.

The buyer must agree to:

- use state tax credits;
- make the house a single family home again;
- work with PHS to set a time schedule for completion;
- install all new plumbing and wiring systems as well as HVAC;
- be open for PHS visits during work and immediately after completion for inspection.

Heirloom Sale

September 10 & 11, 2010

The Dawson House, 137 Bank Street

We were not able to have our May Heirloom Sale this year and people have called asking about it. This year it will be held on Friday, September 10, 3:00 - 6:00 pm, and Saturday, September 11, 9:00 am - 1:00 pm. The Saturday sale will occur during the Taste of Suffolk event.

This is NOT a yard sale. We try to sell quality items: furniture, decorative items, linens, etc., as well as some duplicate unrestricted items from the SNHS collection.

Plan to shop, offer to work, and/or ahead of time bring us the old chair that's not really you, the picture that has never found a spot, etc. Someone else might love it.

Proceeds benefit the Dawson House project. Come out, find a treasure and support the cause!

34th Annual Candlelight Tour

December 4 & 5

Save the dates! Learn about the land along the Chuckatuck Creek. Plan to work or attend or both. This is our major fundraiser each year so we really need your support! We think you'll especially enjoy this year's event. Watch for more details.

As always, the Sugar Plum Kitchen will offer delicious home baked goods and pickles.

This is the pick-up weekend for our wreath sale items as well.

Henry Rawles Memorial Exhibit

at Riddick's Folly

If you haven't seen this exhibit, it's still in place until August 31. It includes numerous watercolors by Henry Rawles—some Suffolk scenes—but also varied other work by his kinsmen Anna Mary Riddick, Gertrude Riddick Pruden, Brooke Pruden, III, and George Paine Riddick. The exhibit only is free. There is a modest fee for a house tour.

Riddick's Folly is open Wednesday - Friday, 10:00 - 5:00; Saturday 10:00 - 4:00; and Sunday 1:00 - 5:00. Questions? Call 757-934-0822.

Sesquicentennial Observance

2011 - 2015

Throughout this year representatives from SNHS, United Daughters of the Confederacy and Sons of Confederate Veterans are meeting with Riddick's Folly representatives to plan five years of events commemorating the 150th anniversary of the Civil War. Watch for more information to come.

THE CASKET.

VOL. I.

SUFFOLK, VA., THURSDAY, JUNE 22, 1876.

No. 1.

THE CASKET.

MR. N. R. KILBY, Local Editor.

THURSDAY, JUNE 22, 1876.

COMMENCEMENT.

The annual commencement exercises of the Suffolk Female Institute will take place to-day, and, as usual, Temperance Hall will be crowded with the papas and mamas, and particular friends of the young ladies, together with our friends, the public generally.

The morning exercises will consist of music, essays, &c., and to-night will be presented the operetta of the "Flower Queen." We bid all our friends a hearty welcome, and earnestly hope that our efforts to please may meet with their hearty approval. While here don't fail to purchase a copy of the CASKET to carry home with you, as this will help us to pay the printer, and you will hardly miss the amount.

To-morrow morning, hasty adieus, tears, kisses, good-bye, and we are off for home, holiday and fun. To our kind friends in Suffolk, our teachers, and all who have ministered to our comfort, not excepting the cook, we bid an affectionate farewell.

LOCAL NEWS OF THE INSTITUTE.

BRIEFS.—

Miss Ida G. Lassiter, of the S. F. Institute, left for her home in Gates county on Friday last.

Misses Annie and Mary Darden have just returned from the commencement at Farmville.

Mrs. Charlie Riddick, of Nansemond county, will take a trip to the Centennial not many days hence.

Mrs. P. Rodman came up and spent the day with her daughter Mary, at the Institute, a few days ago.

We are glad to learn that Miss Eva's pig has recovered, for she nursed him well by giving him blue-moss pills. He is now walking about the yard.

Miss Lulie Crump left here on Wednesday last to spend a few days at her home. We sincerely hope she will have a pleasant time eating cherries, and return promptly to school.

The two Misses Holland, of this school, left for their home, near Boykins, on the 16th inst. We wish them a pleasant vacation, but had rather they would have remained with us until our concert is over.

We are not surprised at one young lady of the Institute being fond of hunting eggs for Miss Eva, for she finds that the nest contains more notes than eggs. Put them in the nest B., M. will be sure to get them.

Miss Julia Pinner was home on Saturday last, and returned on Monday following with a quantity of the sweet cherries we ever saw. We are sure that Miss Pinner and her cherries were most kindly welcomed by all the ladies of the Institute.

Four of the young ladies of the S. F. Institute went out to the pump one night last week to get some water. They saw some one sitting on the palings, which frightened them very much, and they ran back into the house. We reckon it was some of the same fellows who crawl around the pig pen on the opposite corner.

There is one young man who stands on Washington square, who must think himself very handsome, as he is always in the door whenever the Institute girls pass, and tries to attract their attention by his smiles and affected ways. We girls think the first organ grinder that comes around will be apt to take that job for his monkey.

Says Miss Eva Finney—"It's a trouble to procure provisions for the girls, it's a trouble to get it cooked, it's a trouble to get it put on the table, it's a trouble to get the girls to the table, it's a trouble to get them quiet enough to say grace, but when they do commence it seems but little trouble to eat everything before them."

There are some young men in town who are very fond of getting in a pig-pen, on the opposite corner of Central avenue, for the purpose of peeping at the girls at the Institute as they promenade the front porch. We wonder if some of them have not worn out the knees of their pants crawling around in there?

Be sure to know your brothers wherever you see them. There was a young lady of the Institute who went to church a few Sundays since and saw a gentleman whom she took to be her brother; she smiled and he smiled, she bowed and he bowed, but when she came to find out who it was, she found it was some one that she had never seen before.

There is a certain young lady in the Institute who went home on one occasion, and when she returned she brought with her a Centennial parasol, on the handle was a small glass piece, through which you can see the Horicultural hall; also a pencil, which writes any color imaginable.

There is a certain young lady in the Institute who was sitting on the porch a short time ago, and had just been eating strawberries, a very handsome young gentleman passed by, whom she thought a good deal of. She took so much interest in looking at him as he passed by, that she wiped her hands on a girl's dress who was standing beside her. She turned around to the girl and said, "You must certainly excuse me, for I did not know what I was doing." We suppose she was too deep in love to think of anything else.

THE following letters were received by the ladies for whom intended:

SUFFOLK, VIRGINIA,
June 15th, 1876.

Miss.—Although I am not personally acquainted with you, I take this opportunity of writing to you. I hope you will not think me too bold or pert in taking the liberty of writing you, but really I cannot resist the temptation of writing to you. The object of my writing this note is simply to ask if I can have the pleasure of promenading with you on the night of your concert, 22d inst. Can I? Please answer immediately. Your sincere Friend.

SUFFOLK, VIRGINIA,
June 13th, 1876.

Miss.—If agreeable, may I have the extreme pleasure of walking with you on the porch on the night of your concert. Answer soon, for I am anxious to know. Your Friend.

SUFFOLK, VIRGINIA,
June 14th, 1876.

Miss.—Doubtless you will think me a queer genius for again taking the liberty of writing to you, after you had once refused to receive my letter. In any way, blame you for not receiving it under the circumstances, but doubtless you would have received it under other circumstances. The object of my writing to you this time is this: Can I have the pleasure of promenading with you on the night of the 22d inst. E. B. is trying to get ahead of me. I readily give up if he is ahead of me. Please answer immediately. You really must excuse pencil, as the boys are keeping so much noise, I could not write with a pen if I were to try. Rest assured you have the best wishes of your Sincere little Friend.

We girls like to become acquainted with the gentlemen before making engagements to promenade.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

Mrs. William R. Ellis' is the place get your Summer Hats.

Train Station Anniversary

The Suffolk Seaboard Railroad Museum is celebrating the Tenth year since Restoration and Grand Re-opening, and our One Hundred and Twenty-Fifth Anniversary! The Anniversary events will launch on August 28th and 29th at the Station, with museum tours, displays and train-related exhibits never before seen. We will have a children's train display, petting zoo, Teddy Bear Express Trackless Train and other wonderful things just for the kids! There will be food, fun and live music all day on Saturday from 10-7 and again on Sunday afternoon from 1-4. The gift shop will have new items for purchase.

There will be separate events to honor the members of the Tidewater Chapter of the National Railroad Modelers Association for their amazing contribution to the Station; to honor those responsible for the incredible restoration ten years ago; and to honor our many wonderful volunteers. Dates and times for the Receptions for these groups will be announced. We also plan to have members of each of these groups well represented on the 28th & 29th.

Our raffle of a huge Seaboard Station replica made of gingerbread (the winner to be announced in late November) made by a local award-winning gingerbread artist will also kick off on that weekend. It will be a Celebration to remember!

Hours: Wednesday - Saturday 10 - 4; Sunday 1 - 4
